

Anblicks Data Strategy

Engineering your data strategy roadmap

At Anblicks, our architects and engineers will collaborate with your stakeholders to fully understand your strategic priorities, opportunities and challenges when it comes to data. We believe that data is the foundation for your digital transformation, and together with your teams, we build a data strategy and roadmap that will enable you to select the appropriate technology choice for your specific challenges.

Workshop

- Stakeholder Input
- Deep dive of current systems
- Challenges & Opportunities

Initial Point of View

- Technology Options (2 or 3)
- High-level Architecture (in collaboration with internal IT)
- Business Needs
- PoC Framework (includes success criteria)

Proof of Concept

- Execute Proof of Concept

Recommendations

- Technology Stack
- Detailed Architecture
- Analytics Roadmap
- Business Case with Costs and ROI Analysis
- Implementation Plan

Strategic advice, grounded in expertise & experience

We know that you are faced with a myriad of options and choices as you build and optimize your data foundation for the future. At Anblicks, we design and build solutions along the entire data pipeline for our clients and we bring hard won lessons to help you speed up your strategy.

End to End View

We believe that our clients are best served with a holistic and end to end view of the data pipeline. This means that we focus on your data siloes and discover data context, relationships and even “dark data.” Having an end to end view means that we define how you want to ingest, store, analyze, warehouse and visualize or serve up information & insight.

Strategic Alignment

We align your strategic priorities and challenges to the optimum architecture. While there are a lot of options and ways to move forward, we know that it is critical for you to align yourself with a low risk / high reward strategy that will stand the test of time.

Technology Choice & Solution Fit

We help you narrow down the technology options so that you can make the best choice for your needs and aspirations. We know what works and what does not. We leverage that deep expertise to highlight a path forward for your specific challenges and opportunities. Innovative use of the “Proof of Concept” (POC) model where we physically show you how an eventual solution could work helps make the recommendation real for you.

Business Case & Implementation Plan

We know that organizations face tremendous pressure in justifying capital investments in today’s environment. A sharp focus on the Costs, Benefits and Return on Investment (ROI) of the proposed strategy, helps us build a business case for investment. We work with you to lay out a detailed implementation plan based on the business case, so you can accelerate quickly and start to gain the benefits.

Your Digital Transformation Partner

www.anblicks.com | sales@anblicks.com